Description

Located in charming McClellanville, SC, this stunning 2-acre lot offers a tranquil setting with creek frontage, a scenic drive lined with oak trees, and a cleared area suitable for building. The remaining wooded section ensures privacy and natural beauty. Located approximately 35 miles from downtown Charleston and about 30 miles from Georgetown, SC, it provides convenient access to urban amenities while maintaining a serene rural atmosphere. McClellanville is more than a quaint, historic town--it's a gateway to natural beauty and adventure. Positioned at the edge of the Cape Romain National Wildlife Refuge, it provides access to one of the prettiest and untouched estuaries along the Atlantic Coast. Surrounded by Francis Marion National Forest, the area offers abundant outdoor activities, including miles of trails for hiking, horseback riding, and biking. Additionally, it provides access to creeks and rivers ideal for fishing and kayaking, along with numerous campgrounds and recreation areas.
