Description

Located in Prosperity, a quaint lake community, a long gravel driveway leads to this one-owner, custom-built home on 2.75 private acres. Beautiful grass, an inviting wraparound porch, and plenty of room between you and the road make 1400 Ira Kinard Road a property you'll want to spend time enjoying. Inside, the living room features beautiful hardwood floors, with a dining area and an eat-in kitchen featuring wood cabinetry. The home offers three bedrooms and two full baths, with cedar closets in two of the bedrooms. A laundry room with a sink adds everyday convenience. The sunroom overlooks the backyard, offering a comfortable spot to enjoy the view and wildlife in any season. The garage space is a standout feature. The attached three-car garage offers approximately 1,170 square feet, with a pull-through design that makes handling a boat or trailer easier. A large pantry/storage room inside the garage provides additional space to keep supplies organized. There's also a detached two-car garage with a covered lean-to for extra storage and a fish-cleaning station. With the nearest boat launch approximately eight minutes away, the setup is especially convenient for anyone who enjoys time on the water. A second septic system and a connection to public water are located near the road. From the porch and private setting to the generous garage and storage space, this property offers a combination of features that's hard to find.
