Welcome to 153 Deno Dr in Gaffney, SC—a 2023-built home offering modern living, flexible space, and a generous 0.78-acre lot! Inside, the open and functional layout gives you plenty of room to make the home your own. A flexible space at the front of the home is perfect for a home office, playroom, sitting room, or formal dining area, while the main living spaces flow together for easy everyday living and entertaining. Upstairs, the loft provides even more usable living space—think media room, game room, second living area, or workspace. And don't overlook the backyard! A concrete pad is already in place in the back corner, providing a great start for a future shed, workshop, or additional outdoor space.
