Description

Backyard firepit nights are what South Carolina fall dreams are made of. And the backyard at 223 Silverbell Drive in Boiling Springs is ready for them. Imagine crisp fall evenings gathered around the firepit. The expansive 12' x 28' deck gives you plenty of room for grilling, outdoor dining, entertaining, or simply relaxing with a cup of coffee. And the inside is just as impressive. Over the past eight years, this home has been thoughtfully updated from top to bottom. The beautifully renovated kitchen features quartz countertops, subway tile backsplash, a white farmhouse double sink, double ovens, and quality appliances. Antique Farmhouse laminate flooring flows through the main living areas and stairs, while the formal dining room features custom wainscoting, chair rails, and beautifully trimmed entryways. Popcorn ceilings have been professionally removed and repainted, windows feature custom trim and oversized faux-wood blinds, and the bathrooms have been refreshed with updated vanities, lighting, fixtures, and toilets. But that backyard may just steal the show. A beautifully updated home with an outdoor space made for enjoying everything we love about fall in South Carolina.
