Description

A Distinguished Equestrian Retreat Crafted for Exceptional Living Set within a gated equestrian community, this exceptional property offers a rare opportunity to combine refined living, thoughtful craftsmanship, and the freedom of having horses on your own property. Custom built by the builder specifically as his personal residence, the home reflects an unmistakable level of attention to detail, quality construction, and intentional design throughout. The approximately 4,000-square-foot main residence offers four generously sized bedrooms and three full baths, with spacious living areas designed to embrace both everyday comfort and effortless entertaining. The well-appointed kitchen features a walk-in pantry, while the bedrooms are complemented by walk-in cedar closets, adding both elegance and exceptional storage. A heated and cooled sunroom provides a beautiful year-round space to relax, enjoy the surrounding landscape, or simply take in the changing seasons. A significant highlight is the approximately 1,200-square-foot detached ADU, complete with a full kitchen and 1.5 baths. With its own private driveway and complete separation from the main residence, the ADU offers exceptional flexibility for guests, extended family, a private retreat, or other lifestyle needs. For the equestrian enthusiast, the property is thoughtfully prepared for horses, offering a two-stall run-in shelter and two paddocks, making it possible to keep horses right at home. Best of all, the property is just steps from the neighborhood quarter track, putting riding and equestrian recreation practically outside your door.
