Description

Welcome to 4740 Linda Street, a three-bedroom, two-bath home offering 1,100 square feet on a corner lot in North Charleston. Taken down to the studs and rebuilt, this one gives you a 1965 foundation with everything above it brand new. The remodel runs deeper than most. Behind the walls, this home has new subfloors, new plumbing, new electrical, and a new HVAC system with all-new ductwork, the kind of work that rarely shows in photos but shapes how a home lives for decades. What you see matches what you cannot: new cabinetry, quartz countertops, new flooring, a full suite of new appliances, and fresh interior and exterior paint throughout. Both bathrooms are brand new, including a second bath added in the remodel, finished with new tile, new vanities, a new tub, and all-new fixtures. Set on a 0.19-acre corner lot, this one pairs a mature, established location with the ease of a home where the major systems start their clock today. With quick access to Highway 526 and Dorchester Road, the rest of Charleston stays within easy reach, and shopping, dining, and everyday errands are all close by. Come see it today.
