Description of property at 100 Court St.:

WOW! This is a breathtaking home that boasts lots of history and is formally known as being Lieutenant Archibald McIntyre's family home. Built in 1830, this charming 4 bed 3 bath home is nestled in the historic district of Marion SC. The grounds are well manicured with mature oak trees and hedges that bloom in the spring of the year. The Spanish Moss trees gives shade to the court yard that is over looking the in-ground swimming pool. There is plenty of space to line rocking chairs on the wrap around porch over looking the city's square, fountain, & the Francis Marion Statue. As you walk through the tall French doors, you are greeted by the colonial style architecture. The wood pine floors throughout are original and show the true character of the home. The kitchen has been completely updated to a gourmet kitchen to include gas stainless-steel range, marble countertops, and custom crafted cabinetry. The elegance of the updated bathrooms bring a nice touch of modern amenities, while also keeping the beauty of the homes historical setting. The warm and inviting living-room is perfect as you sit by the fireplace. One of the front porch post bears the National Register of Historical Places designation plaque. There is a true romance about this home and if you are looking to preserve a piece of history while also having a luxurious home, you should call your agent today!
